CALL FOR ACTION !

THE GLOBAL SOUTH AND WASH FINANCING FOR SUSTAINABILITY

The Global South, encompassing many low- and middle-income countries across Africa, Asia, Latin America, and the Pacific, faces significant challenges in securing sustainable financing for Water, Sanitation, and Hygiene (WASH) services. According to UNICEF and WHO (2023), over 2 billion people globally still lack safely managed drinking water services, and around 3.6 billion lack safely managed sanitation. The majority of these populations reside in the Global South, where financial constraints, infrastructure deficits, and climate vulnerabilities exacerbate WASH service delivery.

Innovative and increased financing is essential to bridge these gaps and achieve the Sustainable Development Goal 6 (SDG 6) target of universal access by 2030. The World Bank estimates that an annual investment of approximately $114 billion is required globally to meet WASH targets, with a large share needed in Global South countries. Sustainable financing models that focus on equity, resilience, and innovation are critical to ensure that WASH services are not only expanded but maintained over time.

Investing in WASH financing in the Global South is a vital step toward improving health outcomes, educational opportunities, and economic productivity for millions of people. It creates a foundation for sustainable development, helping communities adapt to environmental changes while securing a healthier and more prosperous future.
